Dear Sirs;

I am returning herein two little gold coins of Cyrene. The Tiffany one is, I think, fives, but I am not going to buy that at $60!

Please send me here the gold Arsinoe octodrachm. If I get a better one, I suppose you will exchange.

I have found out that the two small gold coins I showed you are kings of Cyprus.

Yours truly J. S. Morgan

Dear Sirs:

I am sending you today by mail catalogue of an auction of Coins to take place in Munich, beginning May 20th.

No 68 (Amphipolis) seems to me to be a very desirable piece and one which I should greatly like to secure if I can do so. Can you buy it for me?

Yr

If so, what would you consider a good price to bid on it? I shall be glad to receive your immediate reply, and I remain,

Yours very truly,

J. S. Morgan

P.S. I was much interested in the English coins you were kind enough to send me on Approval. I must resist the temptation to purchase some of them, however, & confine myself at the moment to Greek coins. I will return the English coins

FORM 1.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH-CABLE COMPANY.

This Company transmits and delivers the within message subject to the following

TERMS AND CONDITIONS.

To guard against mistakes or delays, the sender of a message should order it REPEATED; that is, telegraphed back to the originating office for comparison. For this, one half the regular rate is charged in addition. It is agreed between the sender of the message written on the face hereof and the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, that said Company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any UNREPEATED message, beyond the amount received for sending the same; nor for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any REPEATED message beyond fifty times the sum received for sending the same, unless specially insured, nor in any case for delays arising from unavoidable interruption in the working of its lines, or for errors in cipher or obscure messages. And this Company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward any message over the lines of any other Company when necessary to reach its destination.

Correctness in the transmission of messages to any point on the lines of the Company can be INSURED by contract in writing, stating agreed amount of risk, and payment of premium thereon, at the following rates, in addition to the usual charge for repeated messages, viz: one per cent. for any distance not exceeding 1,000 miles, and two per cent. for any greater distance.

No responsibility regarding messages attaches to this Company until the same are presented and accepted at one of its transmitting offices; and if a message is sent to such office by one of this Company's messengers, he acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender.

Messages will be delivered free within the established free delivery limits of the terminal office. For delivery at a greater distance a special charge will be made to cover the cost of such delivery.

This Company will not be liable for damages or statutory penalties in any case where the claim is not presented in writing within sixty days after the message is filed with the company for transmission.

No employee of this Company is authorized to vary the foregoing.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH-CABLE COMPANY.

This Company transmits and delivers the within message subject to the following

TERMS AND CONDITIONS.

To guard against mistakes or delays, the sender of a message should order it REPEATED; that is, telegraph back the message to the sending office for comparison. For this, one half the regular rate is charged in addition. In consideration thereof, the sender of the message written on the face hereof and the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, hereby agree that said Company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery of any UNREPEATED message, beyond the amount received for sending the same; nor for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any REPEATED message beyond fifty times the sum received for sending the same, unless specially insured in any case for delays arising from unavoidable interruption in the working of its lines, or from neglect or default of connecting lines. And this Company is hereby made the agent of the sender, without liability, to forward any message over the lines of any other Company which may be employed to reach its destination.

Compensation for the transmission of messages to any point on the lines of this Company can be INSURED by written application, stating the amount for which they are insured, paying the premium required on the scale of charges adopted by the Company, and complying with the regulations printed on the back thereof. For repeated messages, one-tenth per cent. for any distance not exceeding 1000 miles, and two per cent. for any greater distance.

No responsibility regarding messages attaches to this Company until the same are presented, and accepted at one of its regular receiving offices; and if a message is sent to such office by one of the Company's messengers, he is deemed for that purpose the agent of the sender.

Messages will be delivered free within the established free delivery limit of the terminal office. For delivery at a greater distance a special charge will be made to cover the cost of such delivery.

This Company will not be liable for damages or the forfeiture of any penalty clause, where the failure to perform such clause may be caused by the interference of any other telegraph company over whose lines this Company has no control, or by reason of any delay or error in the message as filed with the Company for transmission.

The amount claimed for UNREPEATED Messages, when lost or delayed by the fault of the Company, is limited to the sum received for sending the same, unless a greater value is stated in writing at the time the message is filed with the Company for transmission, and a special agreement to that effect indorsed thereon, and signed by the sender; and in no case will the Company be liable for consequential damages, whether the message is repeated back to the sending station for comparison or not.

No employee of the Company is authorized to vary these conditions.
